The time period for reply, if any, is set in the attached communication.

Office Action Summary	Application No. 10/567,211	Applicant(s) CHEN ET AL.
	Examiner TUNG X. LE	Art Unit 2821

-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

This Office Action is in response to the Applicants' amendment submitted on April 17, 2009. In virtue of this amendment, claims 1-18 are pending in the instant application.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

With respect to claims 1, 11 and 17-18, the recitation "wherein said clamped rectified voltage is a function of a load" in line 12 of claim 1, in line 7 of claim 11, in line 10 of claim 17, and in line 6 of claim 18 renders the claim indefinite since it appears to be mis-descriptive. What is the load being referred to in the ballast circuit? What is the relationship between the clamped rectified voltage and the load?

Claims 2-10 and 12-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112 second paragraph as being dependent upon claims 1 and 11, respectively.

Clarification is required.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed 04/17/2009 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicants argue that the 112 rejection set forth in the office action mailed on January 23, 2009 is improperly rejected as being indefinite under 35 U.S.C. 122 second paragraph. Examiner respectfully disagrees as explained below reasons.

(1) There are NO supports in the specification addressed "said claimed rectified voltage is a function of a load". For example, in page 7, lines 15-16 shows that "the base voltage VB as a function of load condition signal VCL is without limit".

(2) The expression "said voltage is a function of a load" is unclear to have distinct technical meanings.

(3) The claimed rectified voltage can only be related to a function of a load voltage/potential.

4. Claims 1-18 would be allowable if overcome the 112 rejection set forth above.

Conclusion

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
